Wedding ceremonies

The tradition and atmosphere of the New Library, with its book-lined walls and overlooking balconies, make it the obvious choice for your ceremony, accommodating up to 100 guests. For larger ceremonies of up to 150, the grandeur of the Great Hall is perfect. The Cullen Suite, offering spectacular views of Queen Street Gardens and across the Firth of Forth, is ideal for intimate ceremonies of up to 40 guests.

All historic rooms at the College are fully licensed to hold civil ceremonies and religious services.

Receptions

The Cullen Suite, with its stunning, impeccably restored Georgian ceiling, is particularly suited to start off the celebrations with a toast to the happy couple, or for a larger reception, the New Library is a splendid alternative.

If you plan to get married elsewhere in the city, our central location makes us ideally placed for your reception and banquet.

Wedding breakfasts

The Great Hall is a magnificent room with a lavish feel, featuring grand pillars, rich crimson walls and impressive statues. It's perfect for a wedding breakfast for 150 guests, and you can invite 30 additional guests to join in the evening celebrations. Featuring a special sprung floor and excellent acoustics, there is plenty of space for ceilidhs, discos and live music to dance the night away.

For smaller celebrations, the New Library or Cullen Suite are excellent options for more intimate dinners.

Photography

We are one of the lucky few who have access to the private Queen Street Gardens. This exclusive area is a wonderful location for your wedding photographs. In addition, nestled in the heart of the College is the Physic Garden. This peaceful courtyard provides a quiet setting for your wedding photographs. Our grand staircase and heritage rooms also make a great backdrop for beautiful internal shots.

Location

Edinburgh is a captivating city and the College's location in Edinburgh's city centre enables your guests to reach us with ease. We have excellent transport links from Edinburgh airport, Waverley train station, St Andrew Square bus station and nearby tram stop.

A real hidden gem of Edinburgh wedding venues. If you want a venue with the wow-factor, this is it!

Heather and Stuart

The team at the College were fantastic providing everything we could need running up to, on and after the event – we were organising from afar and nothing was too much trouble!

Fraser and Lee

We are so glad we chose the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh as our wedding venue. The different spaces work so well together and our guests commented on how spectacular they thought the setting to our wedding was.
